NO HOPE FOR THE CREW

Seas Breaking Over the Craft Masthead High — Four Men Seen
Aboard Before Darkness Set in.

Woods Hole, Mass., Nov. 13.—The two-masted schooner E. Arcularius, Captain Nelson of Rockland, Me., went ashore in the severe northeast gale shortly before dark tonight a quarter of a mile west of Tarpaullin cove, on the island of Naushon.

At sunset seas were breaking over the craft masthead high. No trace of the members of the crew has been found, and fears are entertained for their safety.

The vessel is in a particularly exposed condition, and the chances of her being saved are slight.

At 9 o'clock tonight it was feared that all on board had perished. The seas were breaking over the craft, and it was not believed that she could hold together until daylight. She struck in a particularly exposed position, and no vessel could be expected to stand the terrible pounding on the jagged rocks to which she was subjected.

OWNED IN ROCKLAND.

Schooner Arcularius Bound from South
Amboy With Coal.

Rockland, Me., Nov. 13.—Schooner E. Arcularius, which was wrecked at Tarpaullin cove, Naushon Island, tonight, was owned by L. L. Snow & Co., of this city. She was bound from South Amboy to this port with a cargo of coal. The Arcularius was commanded by Capt. Peter Nelson, who made his home in this city, where his wife and two children reside. There were three seamen on board the vessel. Only two of them are known by name. Those who were known are M. Nelson and H. Johansen, both natives of Norway. Neither the vessel or cargo was insured. The schooner was valued at about $3000.

ACCOMPANIED BY A GALE.

Wind Reached Hurricane Dimensions
Along the Seaboard.

Boston, Nov. 13.—New England was the center today of the storm which since yesterday morning has been sweeping up the Atlantic coast.

When at its height the wind blew a hurricane. In this city the maximum velocity was forty-five miles, and was attained at 5:30 o'clock this afternoon.

At Block Island, R. I., there was a seventy-six mile gale, and at Nantucket a velocity of sixty miles was recorded. The storm passed east tonight and was severe in Maine and the maritime provinces.

At Portland, Me., at 11 o'clock the wind was increasing in velocity and would, the observer at the local weather bureau said, reach hurricane dimensions.

It was believed by the weather bureau officials here that the storm which swept along the New England coast would meet a storm which had its origin in the vicinity of the Great Lakes, but the lake storm was diverted and passed along the St. Lawrence river valley.

The coast storm was accompanied by rain, hail and sleet. Snow fell in this state, Connecticut, Vermont and New Hampshire. There was snow in Maine, Rhode Island and northwest Connecticut. In this city the rainfall was 1.13 inches. Telegraph and telephone lines in eastern New England and the maritime provinces suffered severely, and in Manchester, N. H., the electric light wires were affected and the city left in darkness for considerable time.

NEW YORK IN THE THROES.

Entirely Cut Off Now from the South and West.

New York, Nov. 13.—New York is entirely cut off from the South and West tonight by a fierce hurricane, accompanied by rain and snow, which is sweeping in from the Atlantic coast.

Starting from Florida, last night, the storm of wind and rain has come up the coast at almost cyclonic speed. Early this morning it was central off Cape Hatteras, although its ever-gathering force was felt far to the northward.

Rain began falling in New York at 5 o'clock a. m., and early in the afternoon changed to wet snow. The wind, which had been blowing moderately, veered to the southeast and shortly assumed hurricane proportions. At 6 o'clock tonight, the local weather bureau noted a velocity of forty-two miles an hour, which increased to forty-eight miles at 8:30 o'clock. That speed kept up for several hours. At 10 o'clock the storm center was at Block Island, where the barometer showed a pressure of 28.62 inches, with the wind blowing seventy-six miles an hour. At Nantucket the barometer was a trifle higher and the wind sixty miles.

Wire service out of New York is tied up more effectively tonight than at any time since the blizzard of '88. The Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies have no direct communications with cities further south than Baltimore, and all Western points are cut off.

IN EACH OTHER'S ARMS.

Suicide of Sisters, Who Give Their Bodies to the Doctors.

New York, Nov. 13.—Locked in each other's arms on the bare floor of a dismantled flat on East Fifty-first street, which they had been dispossessed of on Friday, two sisters, Louise and Valeria Allen, 43 and 48 years old respectively, were found dead today. In the mouth of each was a rubber tube connected with the chandelier.

In the hand of the younger woman was an open letter written in German, which stated that the sisters had decided to die together after talking over the matter for a week, and requesting that they be buried in one grave. "For this consideration," the letter continued, "we give our bodies for the benefit of medical science."

After reading the letter the coroner stated that he would require the bodies for medical purposes to bury them together.

The two women had failed to pay the rent for the flat they occupied and on Friday they were dispossessed. At the same time their furniture, which they had bought from an installment company, had been taken from them and they had been given permission by the janitor of the flat to remain over Sunday.

STEAMER CAPTAIN DEAD.

Suicide of Captain Israel of United Fruit
Co. Steamer on Voyage.

Boston, Nov. 13.—Capt. Frank S. Israel, commander of the United Fruit company's steamship, Admiral Dewey, committed suicide by shooting through the heart in the chart room of his vessel last Thursday morning. The steamer reached port today on her regular trip from Jamaican ports.

It appears he had made deliberate preparations for the act, as he had wound his chronometer and left a letter for his wife and some instructions relative to the disposition of his body.

Chief Officer James J. Clark immediately assumed command of the ship. Medical Examiner Harris of this city viewed the body, after while it was removed to Captain Israel's home in Malden. Captain Israel was a native of Nova Scotia.

JAPANESE ATTACKED
VILLAGE ON THREE SIDES

Were Driven Back With Little Loss—
Saturday Passed Quietly—All Quiet at Port.

Arthur.

Mukden, Nov. 13.—The Japanese on the night of Nov. 12 attacked the village of Yuchanin simultaneously on three sides, but were driven off with little loss. Saturday passed quietly. There was occasional artillery firing along the line, and especially on the first.

The first issue of paper cartridges has not lowered the purchasing power of Russian money. The Japanese are paying for supplies with vouchers which the natives receive with suspicion. There have been some disturbances at Yinkow among the Chinese, who prefer Russian money, and who have sent a protest to Peking both on this account and because of Japanese interference with the working of the railway.

RUSSIAN SHELLS HARMLESS.

No Japanese Were Killed by the Recent Bombardment.

Headquarters of the First Japanese Army in the Field, Nov. 13.—Via Fusan.—The Russian forces are still encamped north of the Shakhe river. The bombardment by the Russians of the Japanese lines has lessened lately. From the beginning they accomplished surprisingly little damage. Although on many days 100 big shells were fired no Japanese were killed and very few were wounded.

Quiet at Port Arthur.

The Foo, Nov. 13.—Everything is quiet in the vicinity of Port Arthur today.

TO THE BITTER END.

Evidence That The Czar is Determined to Struggle On.

London, Nov. 13.—The Daily Telegraph's correspondent at St. Petersburg asserts that the Emperor has decided to send out the second division of infantry of the guards as soon as the troops already called out shall have been dispatched to Manchuria. The guards usually are only sent to the front with a monarch or a grand duke in command. The dispatch of these troops, the correspondent adds, shows the determination of the Emperor to struggle to the bitter end.

HOSTILE DEMONSTRATION

Rioting Socialists at Porto Maggiore,
Italy.

Rome, Nov. 13.—The second balloting today for members of the chamber of deputies passed off without notable incidents, except at Porto Maggiore, near Ferrara, one of the constituencies where the Socialist Ferri was the candidate of the interventionists.

The church vote was against Ferri and this fact provoked a hostile demonstration on the part of the socialists, whose women violently attacked the ecclesiastics, beating them and tearing their gowns.

The government had anticipated trouble at Porto Maggiore and taken precautions accordingly. A company of cavalry was ordered out and scattered the rioters, making many arrests and occupying the streets. Signor Ferri from a balcony exhorted the people to be calm and predicted the triumph of socialism.

DECAPITATED
ON TRACKDeath of John Rutherford of Montpelier Today

WAS A CAR REPAIRER

Killed at Montpelier Junction While He Was Under a Freight Car Repairing a Break — Different Stories Told.

Montpelier, Nov. 14.—John Rutherford, a Central Vermont car inspector and repairer, was instantly killed this forenoon at 8:45 o'clock while about his work at Montpelier Junction. His head was completely severed from his body.

Mr. Rutherford, whose home was in Montpelier, went down to the Junction this morning with a helper, Walter Lindsay. On arriving there he was told that a freight car on a siding had a broken cross bar. A freight engine was shifting on the same siding and Mr. Rutherford sent his helper ahead to put up a signal. Lindsay started out to put up the signal, leaving the car inspector sitting on the station platform, and not expecting that he would go under the car until the signal was up. When he got back he found the decapitated body beside the track, the freight having backed on to the siding while the inspector was under the car. The helper says that the train had not moved more than half the length of the car. Another report has it that he heard a sound 90 feet away from the body. John Rutherford and Hall's ambulance brought the body to this city.

The deceased was 55 years of age and leaves a widow, one son, who lives in Connecticut, and a stepson, Alexander McMillan, who is employed in the stone shed of Dillon & Haley. The deceased was a kind, indulgent husband and father. The funeral arrangements have not been completed.

MUTILATED BODY
FOUND IN RUTLANDJames Kent, Marble Polisher, Horribly Mangled By Train In Rutland Railroad Yard
Yesterday.

Rutland, Nov. 13.—The mutilated body of James Kent was found in the local railroad yard about 8:30 o'clock this morning. The man was run over by the cars some time early this morning but just how the accident occurred will probably never be known. The body was discovered by Fred Smith, a switchman, who was going through the yard about 2:30 o'clock. Smith first found a foot and then a leg and a part of the man's head. The body was found wedged in between the trucks of a coal car with the stump of one leg sticking out between the wheels.

Mayor J. S. Carder, Chief of Police Newton and Alderman Mangan were summoned and the body removed to the undertaking rooms of John Clifford. The right leg was cut off above the knee, the left foot above the ankle and the whole top and back of the head, including the eyes and one ear were gone.

As far as can be learned the last time Kent was seen alive was at 12:30 o'clock this morning when he was at the local depot. It is stated by men who saw him that he was intoxicated at that time. Kent was 23 years of age and was a marble polisher by trade. He was formerly employed at the Vermont Marble company's mills at Center Rutland but since the strike last July he had until last week been employed on a lumber job at Shelburne.

He leaves a wife and two daughters, one four years and the other six weeks old. His wife and children are now at Pownal.

FELL A LONG DISTANCE.

Yet John Casey of Burlington Escaped
Almost Unhurt.

Burlington, Nov. 14.—John Casey, a workman employed in the construction of the new medical college, narrowly escaped serious injury Saturday morning. He lost his balance and fell from a high staging a distance of about 20 feet to another staging, from which he bounded and continued his descent to the ground. He struck upon a hand and it was feared that he might have sustained serious injuries and so he was taken at once to the Mary Fletcher hospital.

His injuries were found to be not serious. Although he struck the ground with great force, his shoulder was not even lame and his hand and wrist escaped injury. He was slightly bruised about the head but was discharged from the hospital in the afternoon.

DAUGHTERS OF VERMONT.

Mrs. J. Gregory Smith to Read Before the Boston Society.

Boston, Nov. 13.—The Daughters of Vermont will hold the first meeting of the season at the Hotel Vendome on Thursday at 2:30 o'clock. Reports from the Massachusetts, Vermont and Connecticut Federation meetings will be given. Mrs. J. Gregory Smith of St. Albans will entertain the members with "Reminiscences of Early Life in Vermont." An informal reception with tea will follow.

WON BY SCORE OF 17 TO 0

Game Played on Montpelier Campus Before a Small Crowd Saturday Afternoon—Little Enthusiasm Manifest.

The football teams from the rival seminaries, Goddard and Montpelier took their places on the latter's campus at 3:30 Saturday afternoon, and after twenty minute halves Goddard was the victor by the score of 17 to 0.

The crowd of rooters was small as compared with the crowds which usually gather to witness the final game between the two schools. The contest was marked by no star playing and there were no long runs except one of 40 yards by Davis of Montpelier, and at that time Turner came to the rescue and saved a touchdown. Goddard was easily the stronger team, Montpelier not being able to hold her ones for downs, but yet Goddard did not seem to be able to stop Montpelier at certain stages of the game. There was a good deal of punting on both sides, the ball being twice punted over the goal line.

The best playing for Goddard was by White, Turner and Martin, Martin's dodging being a feature of the game.

The teams lined up at 3:30 and Montpelier kicked to Goddard. Turner caught the ball and advanced it 15 yards and then rushed it three yards, followed by Martin for 20, Dunham three, Martin three, White five, Martin five, Turner two, and again for ten, followed by Dunham with a touchdown. Martin failed to kick the goal.

Goddard kicked to M. S. and Hill got 20 yards, Henson five, Ryan two, Davis five, Ryan five twice, then Davis fumbled and Fraser fell on the ball. Knapp gained twenty yards but lost the ball. Ryan gained two yards for Montpelier and Henson six. Davis lost a yard and then punted 15 yards to Martin, who gained five yards, Knapp made 12, Martin five, White 10, Turner three, Martin 10, White two yards and a touchdown. Pike kicked the goal and the score was 11-0 after nine minutes play.

Goddard kicked to Montpelier's right half who gained 30 yards and the first half was up.

Goddard started the second half by kicking to M. S. Henson gained 20 yards, Davis two yards, and then Montpelier was held for downs. For the winners Knapp gained 20 yards, and Dunham, did likewise, crossing the line, but as he fell the ball bounded out of his arm and Poland fell on it, making a touchdown for Montpelier. Davis punted from the 15-yard line and Knapp caught it, advancing to the center of the field. Goddard again started for a touchdown. Turner gained 10 yards, Knapp four, Martin 10, White 5, Knapp 10, Martin four, Dunham two, Knapp six yards and a touchdown, the last of the game. Martin kicked the goal and the score stood 17-0.

From that point to the end of the game there was no more scoring for either side, and the only good play was Davis' long run, which was stopped by Turner. The game finished with the ball in Goddard's possession on their 30-yard line, they having held M. S. for downs after the long run by Davis.

The line up was as follows:

Goddard	Montpelier
Booth	Hill
White	Jones
Brown	Howard
Fraser	Wells
Pike	Willey
Briggs	Whitehill
Hunt	Bigelow
Martin	Poland
Dunham (capt.)	Ryan
Knapp	Henson
Turner	Davis (capt.)

Touchdowns: Martin 1, White 1, Knapp 1. Umpire—Orton. Referee—Potter. Halves—20 minutes.

Gridiron Echoes.

The officials, Orton of U. V. M., and Potter of N. U., never had a kick.

College foot ball games will be found on the second page of this issue.

The crowd was almost as silent as at a funeral. Indeed, there was little over which to work up enthusiasm.

Manager White of the Goddard team is arranging a game with the second team of the University of Vermont to be played next Saturday.

Goddard is easily the champion preparatory school team of the state, and if there are any to contest the title, it's time for them to announce themselves. But there are probably no school teams in the state in the same class this year. What is more creditable to the Goddard team is that the team has been made up from only fair material.

Against a stronger team Goddard's fumbling—particularly the fumbling of punts—would have proved disastrous. All the season the inability of the back field to hold on to the ball after a punt has been a weakness, and that the results have not been worse was because the opposing teams were not coached to watch for these errors. A first class team would have had Goddard down simply through these fumbles. If there were any more games on the Goddard schedule it wouldn't be time lost to coach the backfield on catching punts.

NEITHER COULD WIN.

Burlington and St. Albans High Schools
Tied 0 to 0.

St. Albans, Nov. 13.—The football game here yesterday afternoon between the Burlington high school and St. Albans high school teams, resulted in a tie, 0 to 0. The game was one of the hardest fought ever seen on the local grounds, the teams being very evenly matched.

WONDERFUL PIECE OF WORK.

Statue of Eli Corti Erected in Hope Cemetery Recently.

A wonderful piece of workmanship in the shape of a granite monument has recently been set up in Hope cemetery. It is erected to the memory of the late Eli Corti, by Mrs. Corti.

The monument is in two pieces, a base and boulder. A statue of Mr. Corti in a sitting posture is carved out of the front of the boulder. On one side is a scroll giving the date of Mr. Corti's birth and death. The statue is a part of the boulder and yet it is carved as perfectly as if it had been from a separate piece.

The carving was in charge of Samuel Novelli, who was a partner to the deceased at the time of the latter's death.

A GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY.

Mr. and Mrs. N. Bigelow of Stowe Observed Happy Event Saturday.

Stowe, Nov. 13.—Saturday was the 50th anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. N. Bigelow, which occurred on the 12th of November, 1854, at the close of the Sunday morning service in the Methodist church of Stowe.

Of their six children, Mrs. H. E. Straw and Mrs. Abbie Warren reside in town, W. J. Bigelow in Burlington, W. B. Bigelow in Salem, Mass., A. P. Bigelow in Monroe, N. Y., and one daughter in Tacoma, Wash. They have eight grandchildren, of whom the adults are E. T. Blodgett of Wicheita, Kans., and Mrs. Josie Blodgett Parker of Washington.

Owing to illness and recent bereavement in the family, the day was observed very quietly. A family dinner was enjoyed at the home of Mrs. Warren, where Mr. and Mrs. Bigelow reside. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. E. Bigelow, Mrs. E. K. Bigelow, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Munn, Mrs. T. A. Clair, Mr. and Mrs. Straw of Stowe, and Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Bigelow of Burlington. A substantial gold offering was received from their children and other relatives.

FIRST SNOW STORM WAS A FIERCE ONE

Wire Service Crippled—No Communication by Telegraph With Outside World Today.

The snow storm which struck Barre last evening about 6 o'clock, was general throughout New England and New York all day yesterday, except in portions of Vermont. New York city was cut entirely off from telegraphic communication with all parts of the country for a time. The storm in Vermont last night broke down many wires and Barre has had no telegraphic communication with the outside world today.

The first sleighing of the season followed the snow fall of last night, and runners were considerably in evidence today. A fall of nearly a foot is reported in some of the surrounding towns.

GILBERT E. HOOD DEAD.

Was Born in Chelsea But Resided in Lawrence, Mass.

Lawrence, Mass., Nov. 13.—Gilbert E. Hood died yesterday afternoon after a week's illness from pneumonia. He had been prominent in this city for 45 years. Mr. Hood was born in Chelsea, Vt., in 1824. He was graduated from Dartmouth College in 1851. From college he went to Thetford, Vt., as assistant principal of Thetford Academy, and relinquished that position to study law in Boston. He was admitted to practice in 1855. He later served as city solicitor here, and gave up that position to practice law as an associate of the late Justice Horatio Stevens.

AFTER LONG ILLNESS.

Mrs. Roger Donahue of Prospect Street
Died Today.

Mrs. Roger Donahue died at 5:30 o'clock this morning at her home on Prospect street after a long illness. She was 69 years of age. The funeral will be held Wednesday morning and the body will be taken to Northfield for burial.

Funeral of Waterbury Woman.

Waterbury, Nov. 14.—The funeral of Mrs. Blanchard A. Montgomery was held at her late home on Main street at 12 o'clock this noon. Mrs. Paul of Morrieville officiating. Mrs. Montgomery died Tuesday night after a painful illness of several weeks' duration.

She was a native of Fayston and was 36 years of age. Besides her mother, Mrs. Caroline Foss, her husband, Mr. A. Montgomery, two children, a brother and two sisters survive her.

One Italian Shot Another.

Springfield, Mass., Nov. 13.—Guiseppe La Rosa, aged 35, was killed after a quarrel with another Italian, Antonio Caracello, early tonight. The two men passed from a lodging house in Union street, where Caracello lived and after a scuffle Caracello fired several shots three of which entered La Rosa's body. Death was almost instantaneous. Caracello fled, but was later captured at Thompsonville, Conn. Caracello claims that La Rosa insulted him and drew a weapon, threatening to attack him. Caracello admits that he fired the shots, but claims self defense.

CITY OPPOSES
HOUSE BILL 421Not Suited to Existing Conditions in Vermont

CITY ATTORNEY TO APPEAR

At Hearing Before Judiciary Committee at Montpelier Tonight and State City's Objections.

The Barre city council went on record this forenoon as being opposed to House bill 421, an act to establish a general charter for cities in Vermont. The council met at 10 o'clock and read the bill through. If it should become a law it would materially change the present method of doing the city's business as done under the present city charter, change the time of the annual election from March to December, would abolish street superintendent, board of street commissioners, and make many other changes.

The council put itself on record in a resolution as follows:

"After duly considering House bill 421, relating to general charters for cities, it is the unanimous opinion of this council that it is not suited to the conditions existing in Vermont at the present and we therefore instruct the city attorney to present the objections we have to it at the hearing before the judiciary committee tonight."

The council also voted that it was opposed to the passage of House bill 459, amending the charter of the Barre Spring & Fountain Co., and that as many of the members of the council as conveniently can be present at the hearing on said bill.

"GRAFT" RUMORS AFLOAT.

Investigation of State Institutions May Result Startlingly.

Montpelier, Nov. 13.—The joint committee investigating state institutions, has so far confined its attention to the management of the state prison at Windsor. Superintendent E. W. Oakes has not been before the committee yet but unless he can explain some things when he does appear the report of the committee is likely to contain some interesting information concerning the management of that institution.

A. E. Cudworth of South Londonderry, director in the state's prison, testified Saturday morning. E. D. Harpin, keeper, was on the stand on Thursday. J. N. Woodin of Windsor, bookkeeper, Marsh D. Perkins of Windsor, director, have testified, also Station Agent Hazen of Windsor. E. W. Oakes has been subpoenaed, but has not yet been before the committee.

LEGISLATIVE NOTES.

A large number of members remained in Montpelier over Sunday.

The rumors of facts brought out in connection with the investigation of the state prison are causing considerable talk with the legislators. The rumors relating to alleged misuse of state stores, etc. No facts will be given out, however, until the committee finishes its hearing.

The representatives from Orange county are to have a banquet at the Montpelier House Wednesday evening at which Representative Hale K. Darling of Chelsea will be toastmaster. They will have as their guests the Orange county senators, Adjutant-General Gilmore, Chief Judge Rowell, Judge Watson, Horace W. Bailey of Newbury, C. S. Emery of Chelsea and Governor Bell.

The party of legislators, officials, etc., who on Saturday afternoon went to the Barre granite quarries on a special excursion train were delighted with their trip. The excursion was arranged on the spur of the moment and announcement of it was not made until after the legislature had adjourned. Yet three cars were filled. Stops of 20 and 25 minutes, respectively, were made at the Boutwell and the Wetmore & Morse quarries, and for most of the party it was the first glimpse of real quarrying. The opinion of all was well expressed in the words of Mr. Lewis of Troy when he said, "It's the immensity of it which impresses me." The party returned to this city at 3:30 o'clock and after a brief stop went through to Montpelier.

FROM QUINLEN & CO.

They Make a Statement of Gillilan &
Co. Matter.

W. E. Jewett, representing the firm of J. J. Quinlen & Co., sends the following regarding the firm's trouble with Gillilan & Co.: The Boston firm contracted to furnish Gillilan & Co. a wire on condition that they sent all business to them from their Barre and Montpelier offices; this Gillilan & Co. agreed to do, but as they did not send them the business as agreed, the Boston firm withdrew the wire, settled the account and refused to transact business with them. They were correspondents and received a commission on what business was done.

POLES DOWN.

Telegraph Service From Concord to Manchester Badly Crippled.

Concord, N. H., Nov. 14.—The telegraph poles between this city and Manchester are many of them down and it will be some time before they can be replaced and the telegraph service put in operation again.
